ABOUT ME

My name is Nicolás Meseguer, after having studied a higher degree and having done an internship abroad for 6 months, the ambition to learn more about computers made me return to Spain; this time to study computer science. Four years later and with a lot of knowledge behind me, I am still looking for new challenges.

WORK EXPERIENCE

01/02/2021 – 01/06/2021 – Murcia, Spain

Research Initiation Grant

Universidad Católica de San Antonio de Murcia

I was in charge of developing a hybrid hardware accelerator (CPU+GPU) for a recommendation neural network model (DLRM, WATERoT) using specialized accelerator architectures for inference (SIGMA, MAERI). Aiming at maximizing the model efficiency, waiting times and studying memory accesses (W/R) and total cycles consumed

01/03/2018 – 09/09/2018 – Berlin, Germany

Full stack Web Developer

Plinga GmbH

I had the chance to work in an IT company that publishes browser games to millions of active users. I acquired first-hand experience while working on the front-end and back-end of various PHP and Ruby projects, while also managing various services with Amazon AWS, like EC2 servers, databases and CDNs.
